About CME

Last Modified: November 2, 2016 | Published: February 26, 2015

Memorial Hermann Health System is accredited by the Texas Medical Association to provide continuing medical education (CME) credits to physicians. While CME credit may only be awarded to M.D.'s and D.O.'s we collaborate with colleagues in education for nursing, pharmacy and other providers and professions to develop and provide educational opportunities for health care teams across the system.

The following CME information is provided here for your convenience as well as in the QuickLinks. Forms are also provided for planning activities.

- CME transcripts are available here 24/7

The page title is "Clinical Programs Committee 2015". On the left side, there is a blue sidebar with three yellow buttons labeled "Resource", "Info", and "Help". The main content area is black with a white-bordered box in the center containing the text: "Thanks for watching the Event. Please click here to get your certificate." Below this box is a circular refresh icon. At the bottom left of the page, it says "Powered By InReach, LLC Learning Center Copyright © 2011 - 2016". At the bottom right, there are social media icons for Facebook, Google+, LinkedIn, and Twitter. The Windows taskbar is visible at the very bottom of the image.

The steps necessary for completion are listed when clicking on the "Get Certificate" button. Your post test answers can be viewed by clicking on the + sign by Post Test. Once all steps are completed, a certificate can be printed.
